VeLam Update

For the past few years, Mohawk has been a leading supplier of Thermal Fused Melamine door products to the industry. Utilized in the Hospitality, School, Office, and Hospital sectors, VeLam is a cost effective, value-engineered option to High Pressure Decorative Laminate (HPDL). While this offering has been very successful for Mohawk, there has been little consistency in the color/pattern selections that have been used on various projects. Additionally, numerous patterns have been discontinued by our supplier, including Paragon Cherry (one of our previously inventoried faces).

With this wide variety of pattern purchases and as a result of pattern discontinuation, Mohawk has made the business decision to discontinue it's "Four on the Floor" offering of this product. We will no longer inventory VeLam.

Mohawk fully intends to continue offering VeLam, and will provide estimates and fill orders on a job per job basis. This product is available in wide variety of colors and grain patterns utilizing WilsonArt, Formica, Nevamar papers, to name a few. Minimum order of 50 doors is required for this product. Standard lead-time for VeLam will be 5-6 weeks from receipt of a complete order.

We continue to be excited about the possibilities VeLam offers, and look forward to servicing your Thermal Fused and all other architectural wood door needs.
